GUILFORD SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION IN SESSION TUESDAY

Educational Campaign to Increase Efficiency of Workers Planned--New Officers.

A large and representative body of Sunday school workers of the county assembled at the Friends' meeting house, Asheboro street, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock for the annual convention of the Guilford County Sunday School Association. Nearly every township in the county was represented and the reports from the various schools were quite encouraging. The country schools showed up to a better advantage than did the city schools and the country districts were more largely represented than were the schools of Greensboro.

While the reports from a large number of the schools have not yet been received by Secretary Peeler it is believed that when the reports are all in the total will show that the work for the past year was quite satisfactory. However, the newly elected officers are determined to do much better work along all lines during the coming year, and especially in advancing the work of teacher training in the schools throughout the entire county. Teacher training was much discussed yesterday and it seemed that the teacher was the problem that confronted practically every school in the county. In a number of schools teacher training classes have been organized and the results are proving most beneficial. The county officers hope to have a large number of schools organize one of these classes during this year.

There are about 115 schools in the county, the total membership being about 15,000. It is estimated that about one-fourth of the entire white population of the county is enrolled in the various branches of Sunday school work.

Three sessions were held yesterday, morning, afternoon and night. At noon the ladies of the Friends' church served lunch. Special music was furnished by the church choir.

At the morning session following the devotional exercises Rev. Enos Harvey, of High Point, spoke on "The Bible as a Text Book." Rev. A. G. Dixon, of High Point, made an instructive address on "The Week Day Work in the Sunday School." Rev. W. F. Staley spoke on "Everybody in Sunday School with an Aim." Prof. J. A. Matheson conducted a round table discussion on "Teacher Training."

The afternoon session began at 2 o'clock and after the song service the reports of committees were made and the following officers elected:

President, A. Wayland Cooke, Greensboro.

Vice President, H. A. Moffitt, High Point.

Secretary-Treasurer, Rev. Shuford Peeler, Greensboro.

Assistant Secretary, G. E. Petty, Greensboro.

Superintendents—Home Department Work, Miss Clara Cox, High Point; Primary Work, Mrs. E. R. Michaux, Greensboro; Teacher Training, J. A. Matherson, Greensboro; Organized Class Work, J. S. Betts, Greensboro; Visitation Work, I. L. Trogdon, Climax; Mission Work, Mrs. C. D. McIver, Greensboro; Junior Department, Mrs. A. G. Dixon, High Point.

The rollcall of townships and reports followed, after which Dr. W. T. Whitsett made a forcible address on "Preparation of Ourselves." J. Van Carter, secretary of the State Sunday School Association, then made a helpful address on "What the Sunday School Association Stands For." He brought out the many ways in which the association can assist the individual schools; that by meeting together and discussion problems each school can be benefited by the others experience. Then too nearly every method in the work was developed by some particular denomination and by having organized bodies for the purpose of disseminating these methods every school is benefited. At the close of Mr. Carter's address Miss Clara Cox conducted a round table on "Home Department," it being brought out that this was one of the prime factors in maintaining a successful Sunday school.

At the night session J. Van Carter

The result was in doubt to the last minute, and the official count was necessary to determine the result.

The day was an ideal one and this combined with the intense interest worked up by the workers of both sides, brought out an unusually large vote. There was no disorder of any sort, the best of feeling being manifested at the polling places.

Chickens Must Not be Allowed to Roam

A Greensboro gentleman hands The Telegram a copy of the chicken law enacted by the recent legislature. The law, which applies to Guilford county, along with a number of others, makes it a misdemeanor for a person to allow his chickens to roam at large over the property of neighbors after being notified to keep them up. A violation of the law is punishable by a fine of not more than $5, or imprisonment for not more than 5 days in the discretion of the court. The law follows:

Section 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person in the counties of Cleveland, Cabarrus, Currituck, Bladen, Pasquotank, Alamance, Graham, Guilford, and Turnersburg township, in Iredell county, Edgecombe, Mecklenburg, Wayne and Surry counties, where the stock law prevails, to permit any turkeys, geese, chickens, ducks or other domestic fowls to run at large after being notified as in section 2 of this act, on any lands that may be cultivated in any kind of grain or feedstuff, or used for gardens or for ornamental purposes.

"Sec. 2. That any person so permitting his fowls to run at large, after being notified to keep them up, shall be guilty of misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding five dollars or imprisoned not exceeding five days; or if it shall appear to any justice of the peace that after two days' notice, any person persists in allowing his fowls to run at large and fails or refuses to keep them up, then said justice of the peace may order any sheriff, constable or other officer to kill said fowls, or said justice of the peace may, in his discretion, deputize the complaining party to kill fowls when so depredating."

INTERURBAN LINE IN THE SPOTLIGHT

The Principal Topic of Interest in Charlotte---Oliver to Direct Work in South Carolina---Greensboro Line Will Receive Attention at Early Date.

Charlotte, March 21.—W. J. Oliver of the firm of W. J. Oliver & Company of Knoxville, Tennessee, left Charlotte last night for Greenville where he will at once direct the work of building the interurban line between Greenwood and Greenville to Spartanburg. He has been associated with several smaller contracts during the past week and has about completed all details for the early beginning of actual road building.

He held a long conference with Mr. W. S. Lee, vice president and chief engineer of the Piedmont Syndicate, before leaving the city, and gave every assurance that the work would be completed within the prescribed time.

In the city today, also, are representatives from the largest electrical manufacturing establishments in the country. They are meeting here with officials of the interurban road with a view of securing contracts for the furnishing of all the equipment of the trolley lines.

The Selwyn hotel is headquarters for all the salesmen and General Manager Lee is the pivot around which everything swings. With the letting of two contracts—one for the building of the line between Charlotte and King's Mountain, and the other between Greenwood and Spartanburg in South Carolina—Mr. Lee thought he would have a breathing spell, but he has found his labors increasing daily.

Another matter that is being the object of a lot of talk at this time is the awarding of the contract for the building of the link between Charlotte and Spartanburg, a distance of something over thirty-five miles. When this contract has been let the officials of the road will look further into the matter of extending the line out of Greensboro. All residents living between Winston-Salem and Greensboro are deeply interested in the proposed line that is to enter the Gate City and there is considerable speculation as to when work will begin.

SALOONS MAKE WORK FOR DANVILLE POLICE

Officer Hall of That City Admits This—Says Former Chief Stripling, Alias Morris, Has Bad Record in Danville—Not Entitled to Pardon.

Plain clothes Policeman J. H. Hall, of Danville, Va., was in the city yesterday afternoon, returning home from a trip to Winston. Mr. Hall stated, in response to an inquiry, that since the saloons were voted for Danville the work of the police force had more than doubled and probably trebled. The number of drunks has more than trebled, he said.

Mr. Hall was also asked regarding the sentiment towards Robert Morris, alias Stripling, Danville's former chief. He stated that in his opinion Stripling had weakened his cause considerably by rushing before the public in so strenuous a manner. He said that Morris had pointed to his past record to show how he had lived since the murder of the Georgia man, but an examination of his public record would show him up in a manner entirely different from what he claimed for himself in public letters and appeals to friends to sign a pardon. Officer Hall stated that Morris had killed two men, wounded two and tried to kill a fifth during his stay on the Danville police force! And he had been fined by the Danville mayor for cursing and abusing prisoners; also for attacking a citizen with his police billy.

Officer Hall was shot and dangerously wounded about six years ago by Jack Dillard, a negro desperado well known in police circles. The officer was in a critical condition for months and has not yet fully recovered from the effects of the wound.

The man and woman had been living on South Elm street since January, coming here from Concord. The woman's husband is at present suing for a divorce and the officers had been asked to locate the parties in order that they might be summoned to Concord as witnesses. They will be given a hearing this morning before Judge Eure. They at first denied that they were living together.

Moss will be brought to Greensboro this morning and placed in jail, pending the decision. The hearing to secure the writ was heard yesterday afternoon, several witnesses being examined. The defense contended that the evidence introduced by the government was not sufficient to hold the defendant on, while the government contended that the evidence was amply sufficient to go before a jury.

What's the matter with Raleigh?

The standpatters seem to be the people in the State capital city.

Wonderful stories are coming from "the front" nowadays—that is to say, from the Mexican border.

Doubtless Raleigh does not want the Y. M. C. A. organization and building either.

A New York girl eleven years old has run away from home thirty-one times. That is a record for running equal to that of the Mexican army.

Raleigh did not want to take commission government for better and couldn't take it for worse. Therefore she flatly refused it.

Retiring Raleigh believes in the old order of things and is too self-satisfied to manifest interest in anything new and progressive.

New York World twits Mr. Bryan because he has joined everything except the society of ex-Presidents. Mr. Bryan belongs to the small class of men who would rather be right than be ex-Presidents.

Loud calls for Hobson are heard throughout the country. The Alabama Congressman can be depended on to come forward at the proper time, and while the majority may dissent from his opinions it must be admitted that the country has few men who can state their ideas with more clearness and force than Hobson.

An investigation pursued by the New York World showed that fifty per cent. of the prescriptions filled at drug stores in that city were either positively harmful or worthless. The business of muck raking in all its branches is unpleasant work for the muck raker and for the public, but it appears to be absolutely necessary in many cases in order to conserve the public welfare. The times are mainly out of joint because so many people are possessed of the get-rich-quick mania, and too many business men are taking short cuts to reach their goal, which is wealth. It is true, however, that there have always been dishonest men in business and, at present, it is probable that a larger proportion of business men are honest than at any other pariod in the world's history.

Press Chairman of T. P. A.
Gives Out Interesting Interview

Winston-Salem, March 21.—Burrell H. Marsh, State press chairman of the Travelers' Protective Association, who is in the city this week on business, in an interview last night gave some interesting items in T. P. A. circles.

Cards to the local members of the association have just been issued and read as follows: "Annual convention Post B. North Carolina division, Travelers' Protective Association of America, will be held Saturday night, March 25, 8:15 p. m., Hotel Zinzendorf. Election of officers, and delegates to State convention will be the main order of business. You are urgently asked to be present. Refreshments will be served."

In speaking of the post convention Mr. Marsh said that a full membership was desired, as a good delegation would be sent to Raleigh to attend the state convention, when a great enthusiastic gathering of traveling men from all over the state is expected.

The national T. P. A. Convention will be held in Philadelphia the middle of June, and to this convention ten delegates will be sent from North Carolina, rooms for these having already been engaged at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel.

In speaking of the national association Mr. Marsh stated that he had recently received the report of the national secretary, which shows that the membership is now 40,204. The association has made a gain of 1015 members during the past year, and the funds on hand at present are $215,222.45. At a meeting of the national board of directors recently held in St. Louis it was allowed that in all applications accepted between the dates of March 13 and 25 inclusive the entrance fee of $2 would be discontinued. This step was taken in order to increase the membership to 45,000, and already a large number have taken advantage of this by sending in applications for membership. The local post is very desirous of showing its appreciation of the action of the national board by securing a number of acceptable members for Post B.

The national association pays out thousands of dollars monthly to members who have been totally disabled, and in February two death claims were paid besides $17,000 for indemnity claims. And in addition to this noble work Mr. Marsh says that the association is accomplishing great work through its national chairman of the various committees, such as legislative, railroad, hotel-employment, and especially the good roads committee.

It will be interesting to the members of the T. P. A. in North Carolina to know that a campaign for members will be made in the state beginning April 3. This campaign will be headed by the national president, W. O. Hudson of New Orleans, accompanied by several national directors, including Director Chas. F. Tomlinson of High Point. In addition to this work a new post will be organized at Hickory March 25 by the state president, J. J. Norman of this city, assisted by several members, including State Secretary C. C. McLean of Greensboro.

Man From "Front" Talks of Conditions in Old Mexico

Greenville, S. C., March 21.—An interesting visitor in Greenville just at this time is George Rike of Arizona, who has extensive mining interests in Mexico. Mr. Rike is just from the "front" and talks freely of the internal strife that is now disturbing Mexico. He says all mining and other development activities have been practically suspended, as all native Mexicans of the higher class have joined the insurrection. Mr. Rike declares that the insurrectos are gaining ground daily and have literally beaten the federals to a "frazzle." He further says that press reports coming from Mexico are colored in favor of the Diaz government. He believes that the rebels will ultimately succeed in overthrowing the government, unless the United States intervenes.

According to Mr. Rike the government has massed troops on the border in the firm belief that rebels will succeed, and that it is the purpose of the Washington State Department to rush troops into the country to restore order out of the chaos that might follow the fall of the Diaz regime.

ACROSTIC ON WASHINGTON.

Go on thy wings of light and write his name
Eternal with the living tongue of fame!
On heaven's blue field that signal name must be
Resplendent as thine own, sweet liberty!
Greece has no parallel upon her page,
Else she had stood amid the darkest age.

When trembling tyrants heard that Rome was free
Amongst her noblest sons was none like he.
Some bright celestial watched upon his birth.
Her own pure element she mix'd with earth,
Incarnated the spirit and the flame—
Nature was pleased—Columbia's hero came!
Go ask old Time his record to enroll.
Trace through the eras on that endless scroll,
O'er all its glorious names, and thou canst find
None like to his—the star of human kind!
—Unidentified.

HONOR TO WASHINGTON.

[Tune, "Hail to the Chief!"]

HONOR to Washington, soldier the bravest,
Hero triumphant in warfare's grim art,
Pillar of safety in dangers the gravest,
Idol of every American heart;
Winning a deathless name,
Crowned with eternal fame,
Looming more grandly as ages shall glide,
Blazoned on starry flag,
Graven on mountain crag,
Washington, ever America's pride!

Honor to Washington, statesman the ablest,
Guardian of nation in infancy's days,
Founder of freedom on basis the stablest,
Guide to our footsteps through perilous ways.
Girt now with giant might,
Dowered with happiest plight,
Long may his country in glory abide,
Voicing in thunder sound,
Echoing world around,
Washington, ever America's pride!

Honor to Washington, patriot the purest,
Servant whose service was free as the air,
Ruler resigning a grasp that was surest,
Model immortal of virtues most rare!
Join them in loudest shout,
Fling all your banners out,
Roll your glad anthems o'er continent wide,
Swelling in chorus grand,
Reaching most distant land,
Washington, ever America's pride!
—H. C. Kinne.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

ONCE more we proudly celebrate the birthday of a man
Who in the sterling virtues leads the world's immortal van,
And he commenced that leadership when he was but a youth
By showing he could fearlessly and always speak the truth.
And now we'll tell the story which—no matter if it's old—
Keeps ever growing brighter just for being often told.
When Washington was very small he from his father got
A hatchet, which no careful pa should ever give a tot.
In consequence that little boy with thoughtless vim and glee
Went out into the garden and cut down a cherry tree.
When his indulgent father took his morning stroll he found
His lovely, favorite cherry tree left lifeless on the ground,
And, picking up a handy branch, "Who did this deed?" he cried.
"Father, I cannot tell a lie. I did it," George replied.
"Come to my arms, my noble son!" the parent called, with joy.
"I'd rather lose a thousand trees than have a lying boy."
And thus George Washington began in childhood to display
A greatness that has made the world revere him for alway
And wear his little hatchet in their buttonholes today.
—H. C. Dodge.

APHRODITE.

MOTHER of Love, oh, daughter of the sea,
Harken and hear, for, though thy reign be done,
One heart still worships thee beneath the sun,
One supplicating voice still cries to thee.
Piercing the night that hides thy perfect face,
Tearing away the silence and the gloom,
Lo, once again I see thy beauty bloom
And dare to cry thy mercy and thy grace,
A lonely worshiper, the last and least,
I lift my voice and call upon thy name.
Beyond the garden of Hesperides
I turn my face toward Cyprus and the east,
Hearken, oh, goddess of the fearful flam
Hearken, oh, Kypris, risen from the seas!
—Sara Teasdale.

MARY UP TO DATE.

THE DAY'S DOINGS IN STATE CAPITAL

Raleigh, March 21.—Fletcher Kerr, of Alamance county, who has served twenty years of a twenty-five-year sentence for barnburning that was imposed when the prisoner was only fourteen years old, was granted a pardon today by Governor Kitchin on account of a faithful prison record, including service for the past fourteen years as a trusty.

There were seven other pardons granted today, all conditioned on future good behavior. They are Henry Dixon, Durham county, twelve months for forgery; Wesley Coats, of Gaston county, two years for stealing five dollars; Walter Gilman, Bertie county, twelve months for stealing and killing a yearling; Marcus Whiteney, Cleveland county, six months for selling whiskey; Ed Overby, Rockingham county, for three years for housebreaking; Sam Rabb, Mecklenburg county, five years sentence for robbery and Joseph Mason, three years in Mecklenburg county for stealing a mule. Bad health and sufficient punishment are the principal reasons, except in the case of Rabb, from Mecklenburg, in which the indications are the prisoner was not guilty of the crime.

Details of Drainage.

The question of a number of important details as to the drainage plans for the Mattamuskeet Lake drainage district were up for discussion and final settlement today in a conference here between the state board of education, the three district drainage commissioners and a number of people having direct interest in the undertaking. The preliminary conference of all parties at noon in the office of Governor Kitchin resulted in the whole matter being left to the three drainage commissioners, J. S. Nunn, T. H. B. Cobbs and J. P. Kerr. The principal matter at issue is whether there shall be one or two pumping plants for the drainage district, United States Engineer Wright, who made the original plans for the drainage, holding that one is all that will be needed and Engineer Coleman, of New Orleans, expert, called in to go over the Wright plans, advising that there should be two plants. There are some other details dependent on this principal difference. The commissioners took no action here. There were here for the conference today J. O. Graves, of Boston; Engineers Wright and Coleman; President Mallard of the Norfolk & Southern Railroad; Chas. A. Webb, of Asheville, and others. The drainage work is to be inagurated with the least possible delay now.

Supreme Court Made Record.

The Supreme Court made a record this morning in disposing of the entire calendar for a judicial district within little more than five minutes when by law an entire week is allotted to each of the sixteen districts in the state. It was the seventh up for the argument of appeals this week and there were only two cases. One of these, Bowen vs. Perkins, from Columbus, was passed up merely with the presentation of briefs. There was something like five minutes argument in the case of state vs. J. M. Faulkner, from Robeson county, in which the state appeals from the ruling of the court below that the Superior court has no jurisdiction for the trial of a case for cursing on the public highway in that the court ruling was that Chapter 125 of the Public Laws of 1908 conferred original and exclusive jurisdiction on magistrates. Attorney General Bickett argued to the court that this was an erroneous construction of the legislative act.

Following the disposition of the district appeals the court heard argument in the case of King vs. Atlantic Coast Line from New Hanover county in which the effort is to test the right of the railroad company to set up the acceptance of benefits from the relief department as an estopal of the suit for damages where there is any element of negligence on the part of the railroad company as contributing to the injury of the plaintiff. The contentions of the railroad company were presented to the court by Junius Davis, Esq., and the same for the plaintiff by Woodus Kellum, Esq., of Wilmington.

Athletic Association Chartered.

The Elizabeth City Athletic Association was chartered today for maintaining athletic park for baseball and other sports, the incorporators being O. F. Gilbert, W. T. Old and others. The capital is $5,000.

Commission Hearing.

For several hours today the corporation commission listened to evidence and argument of counsel in the petition of Lake Drummond Transportation Co. and other steamboat interests for relief from the 20 cents per ton charges made by the Norfolk & Southern railroad company on freight delivered to the railroad for inland shipment by steamboats at Washington, New Bern and Elizabeth City, E. F. Aydlett as counsel, and Manager M. K. King, of the Drummond Co., presented the side of the steamboat interests. And the railroads side of the case was presented by Mr. Terry, counsel and assistant to President Hudgins and Freight Traffic Manager Bugg of the N. & S.

DRAWING THE LONG BOW.

Stories of Archers Famed For Aim and Force and Speed.

Many "long bow" stories are to be found in the world's literature long before the time of the celebrated Baron Munchausen. Indeed, by far the greatest part of them had their origin in the remote past.

Virgil in the "Aeneid" tells of four archers who were shooting for a prize, the mark being a pigeon tied by a cord to the mast of a ship. The first man hit the mast, the second cut the cord and the third shot the pigeon as it flew away. The fourth archer, having nothing left at which to shoot, drew his bow and sent his arrow flying toward the sky with such speed that the friction of the air set the feathers on fire and it swept on like a meteor, to disappear in the sky.

That's a bow and arrow story to test the strongest credulity.

The stories of Robin Hood's archery, illustrated by his wonderful performance at Locksley in Scott's "Ivanhoe," are also a decided strain on one's power of belief.

The famous legend of William Tell is believed by some authorities to have a foundation in fact. There was a Dane named Foke of whom the same story was told, and William of Cloudsley, an Englishman, is said to have shot an apple from his son's head merely to show his skill.

The majority of the bow and arrow stories relate to the accurate aim of the archers, but a Frenchman, Blaise de Vigenere, tells one in which the main point is the tremendous force with which an arrow may be propelled if the bow is strong and long enough. According to his own account of the matter, he saw Barbarossa, a Turk, admiral of a ship called the Grand Solyman, send an arrow from his bow clean through a cannon ball. Whether the cannon ball had a hole in it or not he neglects to inform us.

Perhaps the most astounding of all stories about arrow shooting is that of the Indians who used to inhabit Florida. It is said that a group of them would form a circle; one would throw an ear of Indian corn into the air; the rest would shoot at it and shell it of every grain before it fell to the ground. Sometimes the arrows would strike the ear of corn so hard and fast that it would remain suspended in the air for several minutes, and the cob never fell until the last grain had been shot away.—St. Louis Republic.

made an address on "The Sunday School Teacher." The Sunday school, he said, has a threefold mission—to serve, to teach and to save. The speaker brought out the many ways in which a Sunday school can serve a community through its various departments. As to teaching he stated that too many teachers take a lesson and try to impress a truth found in every verse in the lesson instead of taking only the most important truth in each lesson and bringing it out so forcibly that no pupil will ever forget it. This was the reason so many school teachers were so unsuccessful. Mr. Carter said he could not much blame people for not going to Sunday school if the teachers cannot make the lesson interesting. To secure hearers the teacher must know how to impress her thoughts home. It is largely through the Sunday school that the people must be saved, he said, and the teachers must be made to feel that the responsibility rests upon them; that unless they sow good seed in the hearts and minds of the children the probability is that they will never accept the teachings of Christ. He pointed out the fact that all the staunch supporters of the church today come from the Sunday school.

The executive committee recommended that the constitution be changed by striking out the provision requiring that schools must pay dues of 3 cents per member before they can become members of the county organization and allowing any school to become a member if it so desired, regardless of its support of the county work. It was also recommended that the county pledge to raise $600 for the purpose of carrying on a campaign of education regarding the organized Sunday school work throughout the county, the money to be raised by plans suggested by a finance committee and the executive committee. The recommendations were unanimously adopted. The finance committee to have charge of the campaign for the funds are R. G. Vaughn, G. H. Miles, W. M. Combs, A. E. Tate, High Point; W. T. Whitsett, Whitsett. The two committees will meet in the McAdoo hotel next Tuesday night for the purpose of perfecting plans for raising the money.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"The Guilford County Sunday School Association in convention assembled in Greensboro, N. C., March the 21, 1911, hereby most earnestly and respectfully asks and petitions the state convention to strongly petition the next international convention, to convene in San Francisco in May next, to say—first, 'we thank the lesson committee for one lesson on peace for May this year and most humbly and truly ask aforesaid international convention to direct that the international lesson committee insert at least two lessons annually on the subject of peace, one lesson each year from the Old Testament and one from the New Testament, throughout the whole course.'"

Following are the delegates to the state convention, which meets in High Point, April 26-28:

A. W. Cook, H. A. Moffitt, Rev. Shuford Peeler, Greensboro; L. T. Barber, Gibsonville; Rev. W. A. Bowman, Liberty; J. L. Trogdon, Climax; J. R. Ross, Pleasant Garden; Mrs. Mary White, Guilford College; Miss Edna Potter, Jamestown; J. Wright Pegram, Oak Ridge; Mrs. Paul Coble, H. V. Simpson, Mrs. S. L. Alderman, Mrs. W. H. Matthews, J. Norman Wills, Mrs. E. J. Davis, Miss Martha Mendenhall, Greensboro; A. E. Tate, Mrs. Dora Richardson, A. E. Snow, High Point; Ernest Sharp, Greensboro.

Greensboro to State Convention.

The matter of making Thursday of the state convention "Guilford County Day" was favorably discussed by a number of the prominent Sunday school workers and at the meeting of the executive committee next Tuesday night the matter will finally be decided. The idea is to have every school in the county represented, if possible, with as large a representation as can be secured and parade the streets of High Point, every township carrying its banner. In case it is decided to commemorate the day in this manner it is likely that a special train will be secured for the Greensboro Sunday school workers who would go over, as efforts will be made to have at least 500 Greensboro Sunday school workers in the line of march with an equal number from the town of High Point.

A Clock of 1790.

An interesting specimen of a long clock, made in 1790, is owned by a gentleman at Lutterworth. It has an oval face, a hand which points to the days of the week, completing the round in seven days; one which shows the true dead beat and another which points to the chimes and quarters. On the upper part of the clock is a small orchestra, which includes a flute, a cello and two violins and a boy and girl in addition to three singers. The hours and the quarters are struck, and every three hours a tune is played "three times over either on the bells alone, the lyricord or on both together," while the three figures beat time and the boy and girl dance to the music.—Westminster Gazette.

WHY HE DOES IT.

Druggist Howard Gardner Gives Reasons for Selling at Half-Price.

"It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicines put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said druggist Gardner to one of his many customers, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that plan.

"The Dr. Howard Co., in order to get a quick introductory sale authorized us to sell the regular fifty cent bottle of their specific for half-price, 25 cents, and although I have sold a lot of it, and guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory.

"I am still selling the specific at half-price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so. Any person who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this opportunity. If the specific does not cure them, they can come right back to Gardner's store, and I will cheerfully refund their money.

Alford will entertain in honor of Miss Long and on the night of the rehearsal Miss May Norris Richardson will entertain the members of the bridal party.

In Monor of Miss Marjorie Long and Miss Jessie Wharton.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was an afternoon tea given yesterday afternoon from 4:30 to 6 o'clock by Miss Margaret Wharton in honor of her guest, Miss Jessie Wharton, of Butte, Montana, and Miss Marjorie Long, who on April 6 is to become the bride of Charles D. Benbow, Jr.

One hundred and fifty invitations had been sent out by Miss Wharton and every young lady so honored availed herself of the opportunity to partake of Miss Wharton's hospitality.

The Wharton residence on Asheboro street had been artistically decorated for the occasion, the motif in the parlor being yellow and white, in the punch room red and white, in the dining room green and white and in the library pink and white. In the latter room the color scheme was effected with peach blossoms.

The guests were met at the front door by little Miss Lucile Reynolds, who received the cards. Mrs. E. P. Wharton met the guests in the hall and ushered them into the parlor. Receiving here were the hostess, Miss Long and Miss Wharton, the guests of honor, Misses Douglas Hendrix, May Norris Richardson and Mary Vanstory. Mesdames B. C. Sharpe and G. F. Ross stood at the punch room door and ushered the guests into the punch room where Misses Maie Lindley and Elizabeth Boyd served punch. At the door leading into the hall was Mrs. R. W. Murray, who directed the guests to the dining room door. Here Mrs. R. C. Hood was stationed and she ushered the guests into the dining room where Miss Marie Reynolds and Mrs. W. P. Beall poured tea, which was served by Mrs. C. E. Hodgin, Misses Annie Louise Wharton, Mary Beall, Eleanor Moore and Mary Dimock Murray. At the library door the guests were met by Misses Annie Merritt and Eloise Dick and ushered inside, where Mrs. W. B. Streeter, Mrs. Henry Fariss, Misses Della Smith and Mary McAdoo received. At the library door leading into the hall Mrs. J. S. Jones received.

Miss Long was handsomely attired in lavender marquisette over lavender satin with gold and blue trimmings, and carried pink carnations. Miss Jessie Wharton wore coral marquisette over white satin, trimmed with wide pearl bands. Miss Margaret Wharton wore white chiffon over Persian silk. Miss Hendrix wore blue chiffon over satin. Miss Richardson wore green taffeta silk. Miss Vanstory wore white chiffon over blue silk. The remaining members in the receiving line were dressed as follows: Mrs. Rose in white satin wedding gown, Mrs. Sharpe in white lace over white satin, Miss Lindley in yellow lace over silk, Miss Boyd in white crepe de chine, Mrs. Murray in black net over silk, Mrs. Hood in pink chiffon over satin, Mrs. Hodgin in gray satin, Miss Marie Reynolds in white lace over satin, and gold trimmings, Mrs. Beall in green messaline, Miss Dick in lavender crepe de chine trimmed with fur. Miss Murray in blue chiffon over blue messaline, Miss McAdoo in white chiffon over Persian silk, Miss Smith in blue chiffon over satin, Miss Merritt in gray crepe de chine, Mrs. Streeter in black crepe de chine, Mrs. Jones in radium, Mrs. Wharton in gray satin.

Meeting Civic Department of Woman's Club.

The civic department of the Woman's club met in regular monthly session yesterday morning, the chairman, Mrs. A. B. Kimball, presiding.

Reports of the various committees showed that members of the department had been unusually active during the past few weeks and that there had been no shirkers and no knockers. All had worked, and worked to a purpose, in the common cause of helping to make the community in which they live more attractive alike to citizens and visiting strangers who appreciate cleanliness and beauty outside as well as inside their own homes. And seeing that their work had not been in vain, they were ready to undertake still greater things.

The financial report came as a pleasant surprise to those who had feared that the department was undertaking too much in its civic day program March 10. After settling all bills and meeting all obligations the treasury still groaned with the gratifying balance of over ten dollars—not a very large sum, to be sure, but a nest egg which will doubtless hatch out something worth considering. As several public spirited citizens had volunteered to make up the deficit, provided the box office receipts were not sufficient to meet the demands, the ladies felt good over the fact that they had not had to call on them, while fully appreciating their offers to help out.

Interesting talks along sanitary lines, in anticipation of a big spring cleaning which is being mapped out, were made by Mrs. C. D. McIver, Mrs. Charles F. Tilden, Mrs. Kimball and others. Health Officer Simpson, who was present at the meeting and who, more than any other man in Greensboro, is in a position to know just what effect the civic movement has had upon the town, spoke most encouragingly of the work of the department, which, he insisted, had been a great help to him in his efforts to arouse the public to a realization of the importance of keeping their premises clean and wholesome. He said that there had been a marked change for the better, as a result of the agitation, and he wanted to see the good work kept up. In speaking of the difficulty in securing dumping grounds—a difficulty which will increase as the town grows and the country people become more alive to the danger and disgusting features of the present system, he referred to an incinerating plant as one of the city's greatest needs.

To supply this need the civic department of the Woman's club will undertake during the present year to raise the amount necessary for its equipment, and expects, of course, to succeed in its undertaking. A committee, with Mrs. C. F. Tilden, chairman, Mrs. C. D. McIver and Mrs. J. W. Patterson, were appointed to take necessary steps toward securing plans and specifications from government engineers—the style of plant used by the U. S. army having been recommended as easily constructed and very satisfactory.

The Junior Civic League was reported to be in a very healthy condition, the only obstacle in the way of carrying on the work being the lack of a suitable place in which to assemble the children. Since the meeting Mr. J. H. Neese, who has caught the civic spirit, has kindly offered the temporary use of a part of Neese's hall, where the next meeting will be held on Wednesday afternoon of next week, at 3:30 o'clock.

Through the kindness of our two North Carolina Senators, Lee S. Overman and F. M. Simmons, something like fifteen hundred packages of flower seed have been distributed among the members of the Junior Civic League.

If Greensboro does not blossom as the rose this summer, it will not be the fault of Uncle Sam nor of his thoughtful and faithful servants.

"The full crew" act of Arkansas, regulating the size of crews on freight trains, was recently held to be constitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States. The so-called "full crew" act was enacted by the Arkansas Legislature in 1907, and provided for an engineer, a fireman, a conductor and three brakemen on every train of more than twenty-five cars on railroads within the State of fifty miles in length. The officials of the State brought action to recover the penalities provided for in the statute. The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company, in answer, attacked the constitutionality of the act, principally on the ground that it was an unlawful attempt to regulate interstate commerce.

Cost of Congressional Debate.

Someone has figured it out that at the session just closed the people of this country paid in salaries just 54 cents for every word uttered in Congressional debate by Senators and Representatives. Davidson and Carolina Ball Teams Meet Saturday in Charlotte

Charlotte, March 21.—Spring has slipped upon us so gently that sight had almost been lost of the fact that the baseball season is actually upon us and that next Saturday on the grounds of the local baseball association, the first college game of the season will be played here between Davidson and Carolina. The management of the Davidson association which has the making of all arrangements for the game in hand is going about the task in an orderly manner and expects to have one of the biggest crowds that has witnessed a college game here in a long time.

Davidson is in excellent shape according to all reports. Coach Garman was given some good material to whip into shape when he took charge of affairs there about two weeks ago and has a squad of men now who stand a chance to capture something similar to a championship rag in this State. Besides Kluttz and Booe, both of whom are stars of the diamond, there is Cashion of last year's Greenville team, who has been a student at Davidson during the past year, and other notable youngsters who have an excellent showing to be promoted into the leagues of this section.

Carolina is said to have a good bunch of baseball talent to uncork this spring and local enthusiasts of the two institutions expect to see one of the hardest battles of the college schedule next Saturday. It is not known as yet who will be the pitchers for the opening occasion. Both teams will send in their chief pit artists, because both are anxious to get away with the tall end of the score. Davidson is always after Carolina's scalp and Carolina hasn't quite forgotten a little football engagement here last fall with those Red and Blacks, hence the intense interest awakened on the part of the White and Blue favorites.

Every effort is now being made to put the grounds in first-class condition. The diamond is being worked over and leveled off and the outfield is receiving some necessary grading. It will be in splendid trim by the time the game is scheduled. Charlotte ought to spring into some prominence as a baseball center by turning out a crowd that will not only be creditable to the city, but also sufficient to give these two teams a send-off in a financial way for the new season.

Baseball Bulletins.

Tom Atkins and Jim Dygert have been released by Connie Mack to Baltimore as part payment for the sensational Lefty Russell.

At Hot Springs, Ark., the veteran youngster Cy Young is removing his alderman fielding bunts.

Elmer Criger, brother of the famous Lou, is pitching for Los Angeles.

Ban Johnson and Garry Herrmann have their heads together again—this time it is to kill off the Kentucky baseball gambling syndicate. Here's hoping.

Elmer Flick says he prefers to play for Bill Armour at Toledo than under any other minor league manager and will report in two weeks.

Upon one subject all baseball writers agree. They want to kill the gambling syndicate. Now, all together, zowie!

Bill Sunday, revivalist, is slated for Toledo in the not distant future. And the Toledo team is to return from the south. Excitement coming in bunches.

Forsythe, Giant kid, told Mathewson to grease his fadeaway, because stars looked like bushers by him. This kid is a swell batter—he says so himself.

Davey Jones, Tiger outfielder, is said by Hugh Jennings to be the model batter. Last year Dave batted .265.

Red Nelson, sensational young Brown pitcher, battled with inflammatory all winter and reported 14 pounds light.

Wilbur Goode, Boston outfielder, has the mumps. He's all swelled up like a poisoned pup.

After losing a star like Bradley, Cleveland could scarce be expected to find one to fill his shoes, but Bronkie, a recruit, threatens to make the fans forget Bill.

Willie Mitchell, Sardis, Miss., southpaw who was a busher and finished by winning ten in a row for the Naps, is much improved this spring.

Our old college chum, Jimmy Burke has his Indianapolis hopefuls at work for the American association campaign.

Players suffering from sore leg muscles know the agony of climbing and descending stairs. To them comes a message from John Ness, Detroit rookie—walk down stairs backward.

TRIED TO DESTROY GORRELL FOUNTAIN. * * *

Some mischievous boys or some person of a mean disposition played havoc with the top of the Gorrell memorial fountain, corner of Asheboro and Gorrell streets a few nights ago. The entire top layer of granite blocks was shoved off. Whoever did the job had to exert a little strength for the blocks were firmly placed in mortar. Superintendent of Streets Cox was busy yesterday having the blocks replaced. Holes were drilled in each block and an iron postplaced therein, making it practically impossible to displace the fountain top.

The Chaplain's Advice.

During the reign of James I. the see of London fell vacant, and, the claims of applicants for the bishopric being very numerous, the king asked the advice of Montaigne, his chaplain. "May I suggest that your majesty will find a solution in the gospel of St. Mark, the eleventh chapter and twenty-third verse?" The monarch read the passage, "Whosoever shall say unto this mountain (Montaigne), 'Be thou removed and be thou cast into the sea (see),'" etc. King James saw the point, and the witty chaplain obtained the see.

Reply to David Clark.

In reply to David Clark's objection to Roosevelt's connection with the Boy Scouts we wish to remind him that Roosevelt's hunting was carried on for scientific purposes. If he does not believe this let him write to the Smithsonian Institute. As for Taft, he is responsible only to "Him of whom the angels sang 'Peace on earth, good will to men.'"

The boys are emphatically not taught military discipline. If he will attend one of the meetings he will find the captain addressed, not as "Mr. Wyrick, Sir," but simply as "Glenn." Does this sound military? To quote from the Rev. Litaker "It stands distinctly for peace." He has another mistaken idea. A boy may remain a scout as long as he pleases, receiving higher honors when he becomes worthy of them on exactly the same principle as that of the Masons. He states that we are taught "unquestioned obedience to officers," revising Rev. Litaker's statement to suit himself. If he will consult the scout laws he will find obedience comes in this order: First, to parents; second, to patrol leader or scout master. We will quote a few of the laws: (3) "A scout's duty is to be useful and to help others; (4) a scout is a friend to all, (5) a scout is courteous to women and children." Do these sound like the duties of any one in training to become a "wholesale murderer." Lastly, I call upon Mr. Clark, as a man and a gentleman, to prove the Boy Scout movement is "The valued adjunct of the infamous Dick military law;" that the boys are taught "The fundamental principles of legalized murder;" and that a man cannot be a scout master and a follower of Christ.

HOW ABOUT THIS?

You wouldn't ask your neighbor to build a house for you, if he was not equipped and had had no experience? Naturally you would go to a builder or contractor.

Then why ask a neighbor or friend to serve as executor or trustee of your estate? He is busy. He is inexperienced.

The Greensboro Loan & Trust Co.
